Having seen the minute registered at the sitting of the 8th March 2007 in the case number 400/06 NC in the names L W vs Y W whereby the Court ordered that proceedings continue in the English language and parties agreed that the evidence gathered in case number 410/06 NC be considered as evidence produced in case number 400/06 NC and vice-versa;

Having seen the acts of both cases.

Having considered that both cases have been heard concurrently, and that a detailed judgement is being delivered today in the case between the same parties bearing number 400/06 RGM.

Now therefore the Court refers to all its reasonings and deliberations in case number 400/06RGM and adopts them in the present case which is being decided in conformity with the cited case.

DECIDE

For the reasons given by this Court in the case Number 400/06 NC in the names L W vs Y W, decides the present case as follows:-

1. Plaintiff's first claim is being acceded to in part, declares the personal separation between spouses W, plaintiff being burdened with 4/5 of the responsibility of the marriage breakdown. with the remaining 1/5 of the responsibility on Defendant as she partly contributed to the marriage breakdown;
2. Dismisses in part, Plaintiff's second claim and declares that the care and custody of their minor daughter D E is to be joint between both parents;
3. Dismisses plaintiff's third claim for maintenance from defendant;
4. Accedes to, in part, to plaintiff's fourth claim as decided in case number 400/06RGM. and dismisses the latter part of the claim as the assets of the community to be divided do not include immovable property;
5. Dismisses plaintiff's fifth claim in that plaintiff has not proved that defendant is in possession of assets which are plaintiff's parafernals property;

6. Accedes to plaintiff's sixth claim and authorizes plaintiff to reside, at their former matrimonial home, Kololo, Triq Anglu Cilia San Gwann, defendant being excluded from residing thereat;

7. Dismisses plaintiff's seventh claim, in that the case does not warrant the application of the sanctions indicated in Articles 48 et seq. of Chapter 16 of the Laws of Malta, against the defendant.

Costs are to be paid 4/5 by plaintiff and the remaining 1/5 by defendant.
