

EUROPEAN SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE

ADJUDICATOR:-
DR. ANNA MALLIA.

Date:- 05th October, 2018.

Claim Number:- 4/18AM3

AcquaBio Tech Limited

Vs

Nik-Sot Group

The Tribunal,

Having seen the Claim Form (Form A) filed by the claimant company on the 9th May 2018 whereby the same, in line with Regulation (EC) no 861/2017 requested the Tribunal to condemn the defendant company to pay it the sum of one thousand and eight hundred Euros (€1800) for services rendered by the claimant company to the defendant company.

Having seen that the defendant company was duly notified on 25th July 2018 and having noted that the defendant company submitted no reply to contest the claim of the claimant company.

Having seen that both parties to these proceedings did not demand an oral hearing (see Section 9 of Form A submitted by the claimant company and the fact that no reply was filed by the defendant company).

Now therefore the Tribunal is proceeding to deliver its present decision upon the documentary evidence submitted.

Decision

The Tribunal, having seen the documents submitted, and in the light of the above considerations, decides that the claim of the claimant company is sufficiently proven and orders the defendant company to pay the claimant company the sum of one thousand and eight hundred Euros (€1800) with legal interests from the date that the amount became due up to the date of payment.

All relative expenses connected with these proceedings are to be borne by the defendant company.

Finally the Tribunal orders that a copy of this judgment is served upon the parties in terms of Article 13 of Regulation (EC) no 861/2007.

Adv Anna Mallia, LL.D

Adjudicator