Case Number: 1/2020MS

Go Plc

vs

Michele Carasi

The Tribunal

Having seen plaintiff company's claim of the 15th January 2020 requesting the payment of two thousand three hundred and twenty four Euro and 69 cents, (€2324.69), a pending balance related to telephony services provided by plaintiff company at the request of defendant, namely Homepack account number 40748945 (Docs A and B).

Having seen the minutes of the sitting of the 17 th July 2020 where, after defendant admitted the claim against him, Parties agreed on a monthly repayment programme payable by defendant at the rate of €150.00 per month until said debt is paid in full, including all expenses. The Parties also agreed that were the interactive box and modem returned by defendant, the amount of €200.00 would be set off and deducted from the total amount being claimed.

Having seen that the Parties agreed that the case should be put off for judgement.

That therefore Tribunal agrees to plaintiff's request subject to what has been agreed and stated above.

Should defendant not adhere to the agreement and fail to pay on time or be in default of two monthly instalments, plaintiff will have the right to claim the full remaining balance due.
