Having heard witnesses;

Having seen all the acts and documents exhibited;

Having heard the prosecution and defence counsel make their submissions;

Considers,

Punishment

² Art.32(1)(a), Chap.217, Laws of Malta

With regards to punishment the Court took into consideration the defendant's admission of guilt, his clean criminal record, the nature of the offences of which he stands charged and the circumstances of the case, particularly and fortunately, that the victims numbered only three. Consideration was given to the fact that the defendant had reimbursed his victims for the expenses incurred in travelling to Malta, even before the initiation of these proceedings. The Court took cognisance of the joint note presented by the parties. However the law itself precludes it from applying the provisions of Article 21 of the Criminal Code. Article 337A(1) provides:

337A. (1) Any person who with the intent to make any gain whatsoever aids, assists, counsels or procures any other person to enter or to attempt to enter or to leave or attempt to leave or to transit across or to attempt to transit across, Malta in contravention of the laws thereof the provisions of articles 21 and 28A and those of the Probation Act shall not apply:

Finally, it was noted that between the two offences the principle of formal concurrence of offences applies with the graver punishment being that contemplated for the first offence, namely that of trafficking in persons to leave or enter Malta illegally.

Decide

In view of the above, the Court, after having seen Articles 17(b), 31, 337A of the Criminal Code, Chapter 9 of the Laws of Malta, and Article 32(1)(a) of the Immigration Act, Chapter 217 of the Laws of Malta, finds the defendant guilty of the charges brought against him, and condemns him to a fine multa of twenty-three thousand and two hundred and ninety-three euro and seventy-three cents (€23,293.73) payable in monthly installments within three (3) years.

In terms of Article 382A of the criminal Code, the court is issuing a restraining order against the defendant in favour of Arun Kumar, Lineesh Cholayil Scaria and Pugalenthiravichandran for a period of two years commencing today.

Finally in terms of Article 392A(2) of the Criminal Code, the Court orders that within six (6) working days, the Attorney General shall be given access to a scanned copy of the records, together with access to a scanned copy of the judgment.
